FIRED SHOT AT THE BARTENDER

Tom McDaniel Became Angry Over
Trivial Mater and Went on War Path.

OBJECTED TO BEING "JOSHED"

Was Only Prevented From Shooting
Second Time at Jake Williams, by Bystanders.

A near-tragedy occurred in the Occidental saloon Saturday night about nine-thirty o'clock, when Thomas McDaniel shot at Jake Williams, one of the bartenders, but fortunately his aim was bad and the bullet went wide of the mark a fraction of an inch. Perhaps the dodging proclivities of Williams saved the day and prevented bloodshed, at least quick action on his part probably saved him from receiving the missile.

Williams and McDaniel had words earlier in the evening over a trivial matter and Williams says, for the most part he was only "kidding" McDaniel and never dreamed that he would resort to such desperate means for a settlement. After the controversy McDaniel went out and borrowed a gun. He came back and accosting Frank Porter, the proprietor, and said:

"I am never coming in this place again as long as you have a fellow like that Williams around."

Porter talked with McDaniel and tried to pacify him saying he should not hold a grudge against him and his place when his quarrel was with Williams. Nobody thought the fellow was very angry, although he insisted on talking. Heretofore he has always been a peaceable man, and the last fellow in the world one would think had murder in his heart under any circumstances. He never before even displayed a vindictive spirit and was considered a good natured, harmless, inoffensive individual.

After the conversation with Porter, McDaniel walked back to the end of the bar and began to argue with Williams. The latter resented a remark he made and started around the bar after him saying he would put him out of the place. Cooly, and deliberately McDaniel whipped out a 32-caliber revolver from his overcoat pocket and pointed it at Williams. Williams ducked behind the bar, as did Porter and they made a hasty, crouched run for the front of the place. McDaniel fired as soon as he could get aim and the bullet crashed through a drawer in the side board, barely missing the retreating bartender.

Quince Whitton and several others standing by, lost no time in tackling McDaniel before he had time to fire a second shot and took the pistol away from him.

The affair is deplored by Porter, who could in no wise be held to blame for it. Several times recently, parties have come into his place and started a fight before the good natured proprietor knew what it was about. It is the finishing grounds, as it were, the court of last resort with many, much to the dissatisfaction of the owner. Some there are, who have jokingly told Porter he should name his place the "Accidental" instead of Occidental.

WIFE FASTS FOR HUSBAND'S SINS

Lon Glore Placed in Jail Charged With Wife Desertion—In Tough Lines.

ATE NO FOOD FOR THREE DAYS

We used to know Lon: he formerly lived here. Here is what the Shelbyville News says of Lonnie:

"Charges of wife desertion preferred against Lon Glore by his wife gave Sheriff Butler another boarder Sunday. Glore, when arrested by Officers Glass and Sutherland, actually smiled when told he would have to go to jail. His wife told Justice VanCleve when the charge was filed, that she had eaten scarcely no food for three days. She was clad in the thinnest of garments and shivered with the cold as she related her story to the officer. A hearing will be given Glore this morning."

SOCIETY NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Buell who live near Manilla entertained with a turkey dinner Sunday. The Hon. L. K. Mull of Manilla, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Buell and daughter Alice of this city and Sallie Buell of Indianapolis

The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Allen R. Holden was celebrated at their home in North Morgan street last Saturday evening. It was the silver anniversary and was a complete surprise to both Mr. and Mrs. Holden. A three course dinner was served and at each plate was laid a rose with a card attached bearing the name of the person who was to occupy that place on one side, and upon the other side was a short verse which applied to the life of the couple whose wedding anniversary was being celebrated. There were about thirty guests, among whom were, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Long, Mrs. J. M. Dalrymple, Eulist Hunt and Dean Dalrymple of Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hargrove, Mrs. Amelia Spurrier, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flint and Leonidas Hargrove of Morristown; Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Hargrove of Hancock county, and Mrs. Sarah Daggett of Terre Haute.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Newhouse celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary at their home in East Second street Sunday, surrounded by their children, grand children and great grand children, forty-two in number. Their five sons and four daughters sat at the table with them and others were taken care of in the usual way. One grandson was absent on account of illness, Ambrose Newhouse, of Silver Lake, Indiana. Aside from this there was not a cloud on the horizon and all thoroughly enjoyed the day. It is quite a thing for a family of eleven to be united when all are grown and have children of their own, so Frank Wallace, the photographer, was summoned and made a picture of the happy group.

MAY PETITION FOR AN ELECTION

County Option May be Brought to an Issue in Rush County
Soon.

MUCH OPPOSITION TO IT

It Was Voted Down in Recent Election and Law May be Repealed Anyway.

It is understood that W. E. Inlow of Walker township, a Democratic member of the county council, will bring up the matter of holding a county option election, before that body on next Thursday. It is further understood that a petition will be circulated to secure the required number of names calling for an election. Many of the business men are opposed to such a move and it is likely that the movement will be fought from the start.

Under the law passed by the recent session of the legislature there must be a petition presented to the commissioners asking that the election be called and this petition must bear twenty per cent of the signatures of the voters of the county who voted for the heads of the various tickets in the last election.

The matter of the cost of the election, of course, will have to be considered and before the election can be held the county council will have to appropriate the necessary funds.

The cost of the election will probably be in the neighborhood of $1000. The last regular election cost much more than this, but it will not cost quite as much to hold the option election.

There will not be as much printing required and some of the other expenses will not run as high. But there will be election boards to pay, meals to buy, rental of booths and many other items which run the cost up. It is said that some of the temperance people will offer to serve on the boards free.

It will be argued that this is not the time to ask for an election, the claim being made that the coming session of the legislature is likely to repeal the law, in which event the county would have been put to the expense of holding the election for nothing. It will be asked by those opposed to the matter on this theory that the election be postponed until after it is seen what the legislature is going to do about it. And then again some argue—and argue wisely—that the people of Indiana, at the last election, voted down county option. Majority rule should be respected.

NOW OCCUPIES THE CHAIR

John Mapes Sits on the Throne of Happiness.

John Mapes, trustee of Union township is taking things easy. Or at least it would seem that way if you caught a glimpse of him just now. He looks like a smoking tobacco advertisement, a composite picture of ease and comfort. The reason for all this sudden "smile that won't come off" is that the teachers of Union township presented Mr. Mapes with a rocking chair. He was dumbfounded. For once in his life, this otherwise talkative official could not say a word; he was overcome and "jes laffed" and he thanked them with a nod of his head that was directed by his heart.

WARREN LEVI'S BODY IN SHACK

Was Found Cold in Death Where Outcast Lived Alone and Without Friends.

BEEN DEAD ABOUT 18 HOURS

When Found by Passersby—Had Selected His Own Burial Garments.

Many people in Rushville, including relatives, will remember Warren Levi, who for years made a precarious living picking rags and "swopping" everything from a Jew's harp to a bony nag. He is dead at Greensburg and he died under the most pitiable circumstances. Friends found him in an old shack near the railroad yards, where he had been dead for over eighteen hours.

Levi, it will be remembered, was a fiddler and a philosopher, who led a seemingly happy existence until drinking got the better of him. Domestic trouble followed and resulted in the family separating. Levi roamed around the country and finally settled in Greensburg, where he remained until his demise. The Greensburg News gives the following account of his death:

"The dead body of Warren Levi, an eccentric character of Greensburg, was discovered in a vacant house on Railroad street Friday afternoon at 4:30. The police and Coroner Gullifer were notified and an inquest held on the body. Upon examination Dr. Gullifer decided that the unfortunate man had been dead for probably 18 hours. He had been sleeping alone in a small building opposite the express office and Mrs. Ashcraft had been sending his breakfast to him each morning, which she did as usual Friday morning, the messenger raising a window and placing the food in an adjoining room. Investigation showed the food to be untouched.

"The remains were turned over to Undertaker Will S. White for burial and the body will be clothed in a beautiful funeral suit of his own 'selection' which he procured of Undertaker White some time ago to be used for an occasion of this character.

"The name suggests a relationship. It is said that the old man has children living at Rushville, and a wife somewhere."

SEVERELY CUT AND BRUISED BY A FALL

Was Elias Smith Who Walked off into Cellar Under Taylor Building
Recently Burned in Manilla.

RETURNING FROM CHURCH

While returning from church in Manilla Sunday evening, Elias Smith, an old war veteran fell into the cellar under the Taylor building which was burned in the recent fire. He was severely cut about the head and face and badly bruised about the body, but no bones were broken. Dr. Barnum and Dr. Waltemire attended the patient and found that none of the injuries were serious. This corner is a dangerous one, as others have barely escaped injury from walking into the cellar.

The ladies of the W. R. C. will be entertained tomorrow afternoon by Mrs. Chase Pearsey at her home in North Hannah street.

Hearing the Clever
"Take-Off."

GRIDIRON CLUB'S FEAST OF FUN

There was a riot of fun at the famous Gridiron banquet given by the newspapermen of Washington on Saturday night. The principal take-off was on President Roosevelt and his proposed African hunting trip. Another funny feature was a roll call of the returned troops when a number of men wearing delapidated uniforms feebly answered to their names.

Sergeant Jim Watson was reported as "killed while on the way to the front on the water wagon."

Private Charles Landis "fell at Watson's side;" Private Charles G. Daves "passed in his checks," and Frank G. Lowden was "shot in the pocket."

Corporal Norman E. Mack was reported as "burying the dead;" Corporal William J. Brynau was "among the missing."

Corporal Loeb was "in the hands of his friends;" Private Taft was reported present, and Color Sergeant Hitchcock was announced as "here with the colors."

RIOT AT CORNER OF MAIN AND SECOND

This Morning When Herd of Hereford Steers Refused to go Any Farther and Started Back.

WERE VERY VALUABLE CATTLE

Probably the finest bunch of cattle ever raised in Rush county was driven through this city this morning. There were fifty-five large Hereford steers in the herd and were sold by Megee brothers living east of this city to Trabue & Lyons of Mays. The herd weighed 84,150 pounds, making the average weight of each steer 1530 pounds. They were valued at $6000.

They were easily driven until they reached the corner of Main and Second streets, when the leaders stopped and then started back. This precipitated a riot, so to speak, and they began going around and around in a circle, resembling very much a merry-go-round, each one crowding toward the center and in this manner keeping a compact mass. They were soon quieted, however, and were then driven on down to the stock yards.

We have noticed that a good many girls marry without any definite idea as to the best way to kill the odor of cooking cabbage.

A marriage license was issued Nov. 23 to Miss Lillian Minnie Vaughn and Mr. Edward L. Lushell.

OLD RELIC WAS FOUND IN ROOM

Of John Johnson, Colored Barber,
Who Died of Bright's Disease
Sunday Morning.

WAS WELL KNOWN CHARACTER

Old Confederate Twenty Dollar Bill Discovered in the Clothes of the Deceased.

John W. Johnson, a colored barber died in his shop in the Dave Powell saloon building in Perkins street, Sunday morning of Bright's disease. Mr. Johnson had been ill for some time and his death was not wholly unexpected.

A thorough search through his belongings brought to light several astounding discoveries. About seven dollars in change, together with an old confederate twenty-dollar bill was found in his pockets. The bill had been saved from some time before the Civil war as the money was of no value after that time. It probably had some connection with some important incident in the man's life or he would not have so carefully protected such a valueless article. It was rumored that several counterfeit bills were found in his room, but investigation later proved that they were merely advertisements for a business college.

Deceased was a well known character about the city, having been a barber here for many years.

The funeral services will be held at the chapel at the East Hill cemetery tomorrow and burial will occur in East Hill.

TRAGEDY NOTED IN OUR WORD CONTEST

Juvenile Found to be the Winner,
But Forgot to Write
Signature.

MRS. TROBAUGH THE WINNER

The next day it snowed! That is, it snowed letters for the Missing Word contest. They came today like snow flakes. Three dollars to the winner was the bait that prompted so many to submit answers.

There was a little tragedy in connection with the contest today. At least it could be classed as a bit of pathos. After the letters were thoroughly mixed and stirred about, the first one taken from a basket full was found to be correct. It was evidently written by a child and the pity of it was that the sender forgot to sign any name and therefore lost the prize. One or two others were drawn and found incorrect, the first correct answer found being Mrs. Jesse Trobaugh's of 209 North Harrison street who receives the three dollar prize.

The missing words were "how" in Wolcott's ad; "like" in the Greek Candy store ad; "dandy" in the Indiana Post Card ad, and "leading" in J. K. Hinkle's ad. Now let the dead past bury its dead and get busy on the live issue, the contest in this issue. Might as well pick up a dollar as the next one!

WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS.

Columbus Republican: The six persons charged with whitecapping John Tribbey near Rushville were acquitted by a jury in the Rush circuit court Wednesday night. The case had a certain resemblance to the Vanest whitecapping case tried here. Tribbey's wife was mixed up in the affair much the same as Mrs. Vanest was when the local case begun.

HAINS TRIAL OPENED TODAY

Interest In Sensational Shooting of Annis Revived.

TRAGEDY DUE TO FAMILY ROW

Domestic Unhappiness in the Family of Young Army Officer Is Said to Have Precipitated Tragedy Which Created Such a Sensation in Eastern Society and Army Circles Last August—The Defendant on Trial Today Charged With Being Abettor of His Brother, Who Is Charged With Murder of William E. Annis.

New York, Dec. 14.—Public interest in the Hains-Annis murder case, which has never really flagged since the shooting to death of William E. Annis of Bayside, N. Y., on Aug. 15, 1908, by Peter C. Hains, Jr., was revived today by the opening of the trial at Flushing, N. Y., of Thornton Jenkins Hains, brother of Captain Hains.

T. Jenkins Hains is accused of being as guilty of the shooting as his brother. He is charged not only with counselling and aiding his brother in the actual shooting, but also with assisting him by holding back the crowd that might have succored Annis. After Captain Hains had emptied his revolver into the body of Annis, in the presence of a throng of persons witnessing a boat race on a hot summer afternoon, in the full light of a glaring sun, his brother aimed at the crowd his own pistol, ordering them to "Stand back!" According to the prosecution, in so doing he rendered himself equally guilty of murder with his brother.

In justification of his actions T. Jenkins Hains asserts that he was actuated by fraternal affection and sought only to prevent the summary execution of Lynch law on the body of his younger brother. He also declares that he tried to avert the tragedy.

Peter C. Hains, Jr., who was a brilliant young army officer before his troubles began, and T. Jenkins Hains, a well known writer of stories of adventure, are the sons of General Peter C. Hains, U. S. A., retired, formerly chief of the engineer corps of the United States army. The maternal grandfather of the young men was Admiral Thornton Jenkins of the United States navy. T. Jenkins Hains is forty-two years old and a widower.

Cause of the Trouble.

The trouble in which the young men find themselves is due to the marital disturbances in the life of the younger brother. He accused his wife, Mrs. Claud Libby Hains, a beautiful young woman, with misconduct with William E. Annis, who was a publisher and advertising man, and sued her for divorce, naming Annis as co-respondent. The suit is now pending. The Hains family assert that Captain Hains was crazed by his domestic unhappiness and took the law into his own hands in a time of temporary insanity. His charges are denied by Mrs. Hains. The four young children of the couple are now in the care of General Hains and his wife.

Since the shooting both Captain Hains and T. Jenkins Hains have been in confinement. The former has given evidences of mental unsoundness, and no date has been set for his trial. According to his attorneys, however, he is improving rapidly and may be well soon.

Double Domestic Tragedy.

Roodhouse, Ill., Dec. 14.—William Barnhart, a switchman on the Chicago & Alton railroad, late Saturday night shot and killed his bride of three months and then walked to the Roodhouse hotel, where he killed Carl Clapp, an elevator agent. The cause of the crime is not known. Clapp was married and had three children. Barnhart gave himself up.

W.B. Reduse CORSETS

The Perfect Corset for Large Women

It places over-developed women on the same basis as their slender sisters. It tapers off the bust, flattens the abdomen, and absolutely reduces the hips from 1 to 5 inches. Not a harness—not a cumbersome affair, no torturing straps, but the most scientific example of corsetry, boned in such a manner as to give the wearer absolute freedom of movement.

New W. B. Reduse No. 770 for large tall women. Made of white coutil. Hose supporters front and sides, also made in batiste. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

New W. B. Reduse No. 772 for large short women. Is the same as No. 770, except that the bust is somewhat lower all around. Made of white coutil. Hose supporters front and sides. Also made in batiste. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

As any dealer anywhere to show you the New W. B. "Hip-reducing" models from $1.00 to $3.00 per pair.

INDIANA POLITICS

Indianapolis, Dec. 12.—According to E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League, county local option elections have been called in Lawrence and Wabash counties for Dec. 29 and in Pike county for Dec. 31. Petitions for county local option elections are being circulated, according to Mr. Shumaker, in Hendricks, Marshall, Huntington, Wayne, Gibson, Porter and Switzerland counties and movements looking toward local option elections have been inaugurated in Putnam, Randolph, Jay, Whitley and Hamilton counties. There is also some agitation in Fayette, Martin, Delaware and Ohio counties. Attorneys for the brewery interests, together with officers of the Liberal League of Indiana, charge that the Anti-Saloon League is attempting to carry county local option elections now so as to use them, or rather the results of the elections, in lobbying at the next session of the legislature. "The Anti-Saloon League," said Charles C. Pettijohn, secretary of the Liberal League of Indiana, "is organizing to carry counties that are already practically dry. Out of the ninety-two counties in Indiana we believe there are at least seventy-five that cannot be made absolutely dry. The Anti-Saloon League is practically certain of carrying counties where local option elections are being called now, for the reason that there are not enough liberal business interests involved to put up a stiff fight. The Anti-Saloon League is promoting these elections now for effect. The instructions which the Anti-Saloon League received from Ohio, as we understand it, were to carry first those counties of which the Indiana officers are reasonably certain can be made dry. Pike county is a sample. There is but one saloon in Pike county, and it is incapable of putting up a fight. The Anti-Saloon League cannot carry Delaware county nor any other county with more than seven saloons." The Anti-Saloon League is counting on putting out of business within the next month 379 saloons in the counties where election agitation has been started.

If the Republicans attempt to make a nonentity of Lieutenant Governor-elect Hall more "hell will be raised to the square inch" than ever before was witnessed in this state, according to the statement made by Chairman Jackson of the Democratic state committee. Jackson is big and good-natured but he asserted in few words that "hell will be to pay" if the Republicans try to put anything over on the Democrats that they are not entitled to. He came here to learn what was done by the Republican senators at their conference. He was so displeased by what he heard that he expressed him

Man Refuse to Die.

You can't blame a man for desiring to live, and you can't blame a man if he takes Sorexine Pills, when he knows they will help him live longer. They are the greatest tonic in the world for both men and women. Price $1 a box, six boxes for $5. Address or call Hargrove & Mullin, Rushville. This is the store that sells all the principal remedies and does not substitute.

Locust Posts For Sale.

1000 nice cedar and locust posts, seven and eight feet long. Line posts, 26 cents, corner posts, $2.50. P. A. WASHBURN, Homer, Ind. Phone 3 on 37. 212130 self in vigorous language. Jackson not only predicted that "hell would be to pay," but that the Republicans would not dare to carry out their plans to put Hall in a ridiculous hole. He said that he doesn't know exactly what will be done by the Democrats to defeat the Republican scheme, but he said that the Democrats will be on deck with something that will add to the festivity of the occasion. Some of the Republican senators who remained after the conference admitted that they have appointed a committee to name all of the senate standing committees. They have decided, however that Hall shall name his own page. The rest of the senate patronage is to fall to the Republicans.

A Washington dispatch says that it has developed there that an effort will be made at the coming session of the legislature to redistrict Indiana for congressional purposes. A congressional reapportionment is earnestly sought by a number of the Democratic congressmen-elect who were swept into power by the Democratic landslide this year. They fear that unless the legislature gives them reinforcements by changing the boundaries of their districts and including Democratic territory they will be wiped off of the political board in 1910. Several of the Democratic members-elect are in Washington and at informal conferences with the Democratic congressmen from Indiana the question of a congressional apportionment has been discussed in all its phases.

Lieutenants of John W. Kern, Democratic candidate for the United States senate, declared today that he has nearly enough votes to land the place now, and they are considering the advisability of attempting to nominate him on the first ballot. They say that he is receiving letters from districts having candidates and that the members of the legislature there are for him and that some are willing to vote for him on the first ballot if he wants them to.

The Deadlock Continues.

Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 12.—The joint convention of the coal operators and organized miners of the Kanawha field, failing to reach an agreement in the matter of the request of the operators for a wage scale that would put them on a competitive basis with employers of non-union mines, after two days of discussion came to a sudden close, leaving miner and operator further apart than ever.

Fireman's Haste Led to Death.

Elkhart, Ind., Dec. 12.—Tripping and falling headlong through a hole at the sliding pole of a fire station, in answering an alarm, Earl Garl, a fireman, received injuries that caused death. He was married and was twenty-five years old.

SOCIETY WOMEN

Some spend Hundreds of Dollars a Year on Their Hair.

Leaders of society in New York know the social value of attractive hair, and according to a metropolitan newspaper every society woman spends a great deal of money to keep her hair beautiful and resplendent.

These women employ highly paid hair dressers and specialists, and so long as they have the money to gratify their desire for beautiful hair, none should complain.

But what about the thousands upon thousands of women just as intelligent, just as refined, and just as lovable as any society woman, who have not the means for expert hair dressers and specialists?

What are they to do? Are they not entitled to beautiful, lustrous and luxuriant hair?

Most assuredly they are, they are, and thousands of them give thanks daily to the great scientist and dramatologist who put within their reach, at a small price, the marvelous and quick acting hair tonic known all over America as Parisian Sage.

F. B. Johnson & Co. will sell you a large bottle of Parisian Sage for 50 cents. It will make any woman's hair grow thicker, more beautiful and more lustrous in a few weeks.

It cures dandruff by killing the microbes, and it is guaranteed by F. B. Johnson & Co. to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back. Get a bottle while it's on your mind. It is a most pleasant hair dressing, and is not sticky or greasy.

For sale by F. B. Johnson & Co. or direct, all express charges prepaid, from Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

New Crop of Daisy N. O. and Sorghum Molasses in barrels at Flinn's. These goods are absolutely pure.

For an early breakfast, take home Mrs. Austins pancake flour. Ready in a minute.

WILL GIVE DINNERS TO WORTHY POOR

Local Salvation Army Corps Desire Assistance From Citizens to Carry Out the Work.

HOW TO ENJOY CHRISTMAS

There will be a greater sense of joy on Christmas day coming to you if you know you have been the means of making the day a happier one for some unfortunate and there is no more practical way of doing this than by assisting the Salvation Army. Their work calls them among the people who hardly ever know what a holiday is or when it comes. Capt. John Knapp of the local corps is making preparations to send out a number of well filled baskets to the worthy poor, but to do so must have the liberal support of the citizens of Rushville. If you have anything you wish to donate, call the captain on his phone 1576 or call at his residence, 441 West First street. Help somebody else have an enjoyable Xmas with you. It will be the true Christian spirit of the occasion.

REFUSED TO TAKE ACTION

County Commissioners Made Decision on Main Street Pavement.

After much deliberation the county commissioners today refused to take any further action in the Main street brick pavement matter. The mandamus proceedings against the board will be pushed in the circuit court by the attorneys for the plaintiff.

DECISION IN DITCH CASE

Arrived at Today in Commissioners' Court in Favor of Petitioners.

After a battle that lasted over ten days in the commissioners court, a decision was finally arrived at in the Williams ditch case. The board decided in favor of the petitioners, William Williams et al., and against the reconstitutors, Wesley A. Cameron et al., who held that the assessment for the proposed ditch was unfair. Alonzo L. Stewart was appointed superintendent of the construction.

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS.
Author of "The Fighting Chance," Etc.

Copyright, 1907, by Robert W. Chambers

"Phillip?"
"Yes, Alise."
"I did my best, w-without offending Gerald. Can you believe me?"
"I know you did. Don't mind what I said."
"N-no, not now. You do believe me, don't you?"
"Yes, I do."
"Thank you. And, Phil, I will try to s-steer straight—because you ask me."
"You must."
"I will. It is good to be here. I must not come again, must I?"
"Not again, Alise."
"On your account?"
"On your own. What do I care?"
"I didn't know. They say"—
"What?" he asked sharply.
"A rumor—I heard it—others speak of it—perhaps to be disagreeable to me."
"What have you heard?"
"That—that you might marry again."
"Well, you can nail that lie," he said hotly.
"Then it is not true?"
"True! Do you think I'd take that chance again, even if I felt free to do it?"
"Free!" she faltered. "But you are free, Phil!"
"I am not," he said fiercely. "No man is free to marry twice under such conditions. It's a jest at decency and a slap in the face of civilization! I'm done for—finished. I had my chance and I failed. Do you think I consider myself free to try again, with the chance of further bespattering my family?"
"Wait until you really love," she said tremulously.
He laughed incredulously.
"I am glad that it is not true. I am glad," she said. "Oh, Phil, Phil, for a single one of the chances we had again and again and again! And we did not know—we did not know! And yet—there were moments"—
Dry lipped he looked at her, and dry of eye and lip she raised her head and stared at him, through him, far beyond at the twin ghosts floating under the tropic stars locked fast in their first embrace.
Then she rose, blindly, covering her face with her hands, and he stumbled to his feet, shrinking back from her—because dead fires were flickering again, and the ashes of dead roses stirred above the scented embers—and the magic of all the east was descending like a veil upon them, and the phantom of the past drew nearer, smiling, wide armed, crowned with living blossoms.
The tide rose, swaying here where she stood. Her hands fell from her face. Between them the grave they had dug seemed almost filled with flowers now, was filling fast, and across it they looked at one another as though stunned. Then his face paled, and he stepped back, staring at her from stern eyes.
"Phil," she faltered, bewildered by the mirage, "is it only a bad dream, after all?" And as the false magic glowed into blinding splendor to engulf them, "Oh, boy, boy, is it hell or heaven where we're fallen?"
There came a loud rapping at the door.

"Phil," she wrote, "I am a little frightened. Do you suppose Boots suspected who it was? I must have been perfectly mad to go to your rooms that night, and we both were—to leave the door unlocked with the chance of somebody walking in. But, Phil, how could I know it was the fashion for your friends to bang like that and then come in without the excuse of a response from you?"
"I have been so worried, so anxious, hoping from day to day that you would write to reassure me that Boots did not recognize me with my back turned to him and my muff across my eyes."
"But scared and humiliated as I am I realize that it was well that he knocked. Even as I write to you here in my own room, behind locked doors, I am burning with the shame of it."
"But I am not that kind of woman, Phil. Truly, truly I am not. When the foolish impulse seized me I had no clear idea of what I wanted except to see you and learn for myself what you thought about Gerald's playing at my house after I had promised not to let him."
"Of course I understood what I risked in going. I realized what common interpretation might be put upon what I was doing. But, ugly as it might appear to anybody except you, my motive, you see, must have been quite innocent, else I should have gone about it in a very different manner."
"I wanted to see you; that is absolutely true. I was lonely for a word, even a harsh one, from the sort of man you are. I wanted you to believe it was in spite of me that Gerald came and played that night."
"He came without my knowledge. I did not know he was invited. And when he appeared I did everything to prevent him from playing. You will never know what took place, what I submitted to."
"I am trying to be truthful, Phil. I want to lay my heart bare for you, but there are things a woman cannot whole-ly confess. Believe me, I did what I could."

"I remember what you said about an anchorage. I am trying to clear these haunted eyes of mine and steer clear of phantoms for the honor of what we once were to each other before the world. But steering a ghost ship through endless tempests is hard labor, Phil, so be a little kind, a little more than patient, if my hand grows tired at the wheel."
"What do you think of me? Asking you shows how much I care. Dread of your opinion has turned me coward until this last page. What do you think of me? I am perfectly miserable about Boots, but that is partly fright, though I know I am safe enough with such a man. But what sets my cheeks blazing so that I cannot bear to face my own eyes in the mirror is the fear of what you must think of me in the still, secret places of that heart of yours, which I never, never understood."
It was a week before he sent his reply, although he wrote many answers, each in turn revised, corrected, copied and recopied, only to be destroyed in the end. But at last he forced himself to meet truth with truth, cutting what crudity he could from his letter:
"You ask me what I think of you, but that question should properly come from me. What do you think of a man who exhorts and warns a woman to stand fast and then stands dumb at the first impact of temptation?"
"If words of commendation, of courage, of kindly counsel, are needed by anybody in this world, I am not the man to utter them. What a hypocrite must I seem to you—I who sat there beside you preaching platitudes in strong self complacency, instructing you how morally edifying it is to be good and unhappy!"
"Then what happened? I don't know exactly. But I'm trying to be honest, and I'll tell you what I think happened."
"You are—you; I am—I, and we are still those same two people who understood neither the impulse that once swept us together nor the forces that tore us apart! Ah, more than that, we never understood each other! And we do not now."
"But one thing we do know, not through reason, but through sheer instinct—we cannot venture to meet again—that way, for I, it seems, am a man like other men, except that I lack character, and you are—you, still unchanged, with all the mystery of attraction, all the magic force of vitality, all the esoteric subtlety with which you enveloped me the first moment my eyes met yours."
"There was no more reason for it then than there is now, and, as you admit, it was not love, though, as you also admit, there were moments approaching it. But nothing can have real beginning without a basis of reason, and so, whatever it was, it vanished. This perhaps is only the infernal afterglow."
"So now I end where I began—with that question which answers yours without the faintest suspicion of reproach. What can you think of such a man as I am? And in the presence of my second failure your answer must be that you now think what you

SO DECEPTIVE.
Many Rushville People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.
Backache is so deceptive. It comes and goes—keeps you guessing.
Learn the cause—then cure it.
Nine times out of ten it comes from the kidneys.
That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.
Cure every kidney ill from backache to diabetes.
Here's a Rushville case to prove it:
Mrs. Betty Abernathy, 818 W. Third Street of Rushville, Ind., says: "My husband was subject to attacks of lumbago for a long time. He was troubled with a severe lameness in the small of his back, which would come on suddenly and force him to stop work. He applied plasters, rubbed his back with liniments, also used numerous remedies, but received little benefit. Reading of Doan's Kidney Pills he was induced to get a box at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s drug store. They soon banished the trouble and restored strength and energy. We think highly of Doan's Kidney Pills and are pleased to let others know of them."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

once thought of him when you first realized that he had failed you.
"PHILIP SELWYN."
That very night brought him her reply:
"Phil, dear, I do not blame you for one instant. Why do you say you ever failed in anything? It was entirely my fault. But I am so happy that you wrote as you did, taking all the blame, which is like you. I can look into my mirror now—for a moment or two."
"It is brave of you to be so frank about what you think came over us. I can discuss nothing, admit nothing, but you always did reason more clearly than I. Still, whatever spell it was that menaced us I know very well could not have threatened you seriously. I know it because you reason about it so logically."
"By the way, I saw Mrs. Gerard's pretty ward at the theater last night—Miss Erroll. She certainly is stunning."
Selwyn flattened out the letter and deliberately tore out the last paragraph. Then he set it afire with a match.
"At least," he said, with an ugly look, "I can keep her out of this." And he dropped the brittle blackened paper and set his heel on it. Then he resumed his perusal of the mutilated letter, reread it and finally destroyed it.
"Alise," he wrote in reply, "we had better stop this letter writing before somebody stops us. Anybody desiring to make mischief might very easily misinterpret what we are doing. I of course could not close the correspondence, so I ask you to do so without any fear that you will fail to understand why I ask it. Will you?"
To which she replied:
"Yes, Phil. Goodbye. ALISE."
A box of roses left her his debtor. She was too intelligent to acknowledge them. Besides, matters were going better with her.

CIVIC LEADERS HEAR THE TAFTS
President-Elect and Wife Speak at Meeting Today.

MEETING OF CIVIC FEDERATION
Wageworkers and Employers Meet on Common Forum Today at Annual Meeting of National Civic Federation—President-Elect Taft and Mrs. Taft the Guests of Honor—Both Will Address the Meeting, Mrs. Taft to Speak on Woman's Department of the Federation, in Which She is Keenly Interested.

New York, Dec. 14.—The guests of honor at the annual meeting of the National Civic Federation, which began its sessions in this city today, will be President-elect Taft and Mrs. Taft, both of whom will deliver addresses at the federation's dinner, to be held tomorrow night.
Judge Taft will speak on the work of the federation's public employees' welfare committee, of which he is chairman, and Mrs. Taft's topic will be the work of the women's department of the federation, in which she takes a keen interest.
Gompers and Ridder on Program.
Several other addresses will be delivered at the dinner. Among the speakers will be Seth Low, Andrew Carnegie, Herman Ridder and Samuel Gompers. The announcement of the expected presence at the dinner of the two last named gentlemen, who opposed Judge Taft's election, has caused considerable comment.
Among the subjects to be taken up at the meeting of the federation are the following:
How may the employee and his family be protected against financial stringency in case of accident, illness or death?
Shall this country follow England by providing old age pensions for dependent citizens? Shall the Massachusetts voluntary savings bank annuity plan, designed to encourage thrift and providence, be generally advocated in the United States? Or will the need in this country be met by the establishment of postal savings banks?
German Plan Proposed.
Shall the state or the employers or the state, employer and employee jointly, as in Germany, bear the burden incident to death or bodily injury of employees?
Are there trade agreements between organizations of employers and organizations of employees that can be regarded as conspiracies in restraint of trade under the Sherman act?
Should trade agreements with public service corporations contain provisions for arbitration of all disputes before striking?

CHICAGO BOMB EXPLOSION
Police Believe Design Was to Prevent First Ward Ball Tonight.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Two buildings were wrecked, several people were killed and windows were shattered for a block around by the terrific explosion of a bomb in an alley in Wabash avenue near Fifteenth street last night. The wrecked buildings adjoin the Coliseum, where the First ward ball, an annual event, against holding which this year much opposition has been made, is scheduled to be held tonight.
The police are working on the theory that the bomb thrower designed to wreck the Coliseum in order to stop the ball. The report of the explosion was heard for a mile. A two-story frame building which adjoins the south wall of the Coliseum annex immediately collapsed and took fire. The fire leaped across the areaway and spread to another frame building, also wrecked. Properties of the Coliseum stored in the two buildings added fuel to the flames.
Expected Back Today.
Terre Haute, Ind., Dec. 14.—Deputy Sheriff Nugent, who went to Antigo, Wis., to return Hughie Dickerson, a fugitive charged with murder, is expected back today. Dickerson is wanted on the charge of disemboweling Earl Slacak in Seelyville last August. Immediately after the murder Dickerson left the state.
Deadly Explosion on Big Canal.
Colon, Dec. 14.—Fourteen are known to be dead, three of them Americans, and fifty injured, three or four seriously, as a result of the premature explosion of twenty-one tons of dynamite at Bas Obispo, in the Panama Canal zone. Among the dead is John J. Reid, powder man, of Indianapolis, Ind.
A remarkable "health congress" is to be held at Tuskegee, Ala., this week, where the attention of the colored people of the South will be drawn to the subject of general hygiene, especially with reference to measures available in the now wide-spreading battle against tuberculosis.

WELCOME AT COLOMBO
Fire Reception Accorded Our Sailors by the Ceylonese Today.
Colombo, Ceylon, Dec. 14.—The report that the homeward bound American battleship fleet had been sighted today off this port caused a stir in official and social circles, in which great preparations have been made to give the visitors a good time during their stay.
The colonial secretary has been instructed by the secretary of state to do all he can to extend such hospitality as King Edward would wish shown to the United States. The legislative council has voted an appropriation for entertainments. Special trains will take the men on daily excursions into the interior of Ceylon. Baseball matches will be arranged, and the officers will be given the freedom of the clubs.

ROUTINE BUSINESS IN THE HOUSE TODAY
Report of Perkins Committee Expected Early in Week.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The house began the routine business of the week today with the consideration of business pertaining to the District of Columbia, and will continue tomorrow the consideration of the bill codifying the penal laws, which received much attention during the last session. Thursday and Friday will be given over to pension bills and other private measures unless there is another appropriation bill ready for consideration.
The first days of the week in the senate will witness an effort by Senator Carter to procure the passage of his bill providing for the establishment of postal savings banks, and on Wednesday that measure will give way to the Foraker bill, authorizing the reenlistment of the negro soldiers who were discharged without honor because of their supposed participation in the Brownsville riots of 1906.
Both houses of congress are counting upon concluding the ante-Christmas holiday work of the session during the present week. The date of the adjournment for the holidays has not yet been definitely determined, but most probably it will fall on the 21st inst., a week from today. It is expected that both houses will deal during the week with the question of the paragraph in the president's message relating to the secret service. The Perkins committee probably will present its report to the house early in the week, and in case a resolution dealing with the subject is recommended it will be acted upon before the dispersal of the house for the holidays. The present program in the senate, so far as the senate has a program, is to have introduced a resolution similar to that passed by the house, which authorized a committee to deal with the question and report back.

DON'T BE BALD.
Nearly Anyone May Secure a Splendid Growth of Hair.

You can easily find out for yourself if your hair needs nourishment, if it is thinning out, getting dry, harsh and brittle, or splitting at the end. You simply have to pull a hair from the top of your head and closely examine its root. If the bulb is plump and rosy, it is all right—if it is white and shrunken, your hair is diseased and needs nourishment.
We have a remedy for hair troubles that cannot be surpassed. It has a record of growing hair and curing baldness in 93 out of every 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. It will even grow hair on bald heads, if the scalp is not glazed and shiny. That may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claim to an actual test.
We are sure that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will cure dandruff, prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, stop falling hair and grow new hair, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid us for Rexall "93" Hair Tonic in every instance where it does not do as we claim or fails to give entire satisfaction to the user.
Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is delightfully perfumed, and does not grease or gum the hair. We have it in two sizes. Prices 50c. and $1.00. We urge you to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic on our recommendation, and with our guarantee back of it, you certainly take no risk. Lytle's Drug Store Third and Main street.

FEEBLE OLD LADY
Has Strength Restored By Vinol
Mrs. Michael Bloom of Lewistown, Pa., who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably settled on my lungs, and a cough would result. My son learned of the cod liver preparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work, and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try Vinol. I am delighted with what it has done for me."
As a body builder and strength creator, for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unexcelled. If it fails to give satisfaction we will return your money.

FIRST ACT OF WAR

Dutch Cruiser Captures a Venezuelan Coast Guardship.

Willemstad, Curacao, Dec. 14.—The Dutch cruiser Gelderland on Saturday morning captured the Venezuelan coast guardship Alix outside Puerto Cabello. The Dutch flag was hoisted over the Alix, the crew of which was sent ashore. The guardship then was manned by a Dutch officer and marines and towed to Willemstad, arriving here Sunday.

Although the seizure of the Alix was plainly discernable from Puerto Cabello, the forts there did not fire upon the Gelderland. There is great enthusiasm over the incident in Curacao.

The steamer Maracaibo, which has arrived here from Venezuelan ports, reports that when she was at Maracaibo the air was full of rumors of a revolution in the interior of Venezuela.
